

“Ready for change, not commitment.”

“We put the dank in your bank.”

Toike Party of Canada

“Slightly more ready than Justin.”

“Safer Canada, stronger condoms.”

“Just DO it”

EDITORIAL

There are very few gifts that one gets as the boss of this newspaper, but an election is a big one. This year, for an unprecedented number of weeks, anyone who wants to gets to tune in to the preposterous political pageantry of a digital age federal race.

Meanwhile, here at the Toike, we're sitting around a meeting table practically drooling over the number of article opportunities that creep out of the campaign crapshoot. We wound up so eager to offer our own voice on the pressing issues of the day that we formed the Toike Party of Canada in order to do so. That's right, people, vote Toike!

Inside this extended campaign flier, you'll find everything you need to know about our platform policies, along with the hottest news about our opponents' blunders. You can start (or finish) by trying out our political alignment quiz below!

Remember this: Toikeman cares about Canada. Toikeman will keep our public safe by thickening the social security condom, and will put the dank right back into our country's bank. Toikeman will just DO it.

Politically yours,

Ryan Williams

Editor-in-Chief

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,
If you're doing an election issue, one measly article that touches on my party is completely inadequate. It's bad enough they're trying to shut me out of the debates, but now this!? Screw you, Ryan.
- Elizabeth May

Elizabeth,
Not gonna lie, I feel pretty bad about it too. I wanted to have a better balance, but I'm always at the mercy of my staff and what they produce. Think of it as a compliment, if anything.

- Ryan

Editor,
I am, frankly, alarmed that this election issue did not include a broader coverage of upcoming American politics, dawg. The 2020 presidential race is only 5 years away, already I'm working harder, better, faster, stronger than ever to prepare for my campaign, yo. If you don't improve the caliber of your publication, I will show no mercy in criticizing it further.

- Kanye

Dear Kanye,
Don't worry buddy... Just you wait.
-Ryan

Send your own letters to the editor! Email toike@skule.ca with the subject "Dear Editor".

Toike Oike Election Quiz!

Kark Clent
Toike Oike Pollster

Do you sometimes struggle over who to vote for? Do you find yourself worried that maybe you like the wrong party? Then this quiz is for you! Whether you're NDP, Libertarian, Green Party, or that one really obscure party that you swear is real, this quiz will help assign you into a party, not unlike the Sorting Hat. Except you're the one who has to do most of the work.

You find a child who has lost its way. What do you do?

- a. Tell the child that life is just unfair and that it's not your problem that (s)he got lost.
- b. Give the child the wrong directions.
- c. Keep walking.
- d. Actually help the child.

What does your ideal breakfast consist of?

- a. A cup of black coffee, as bitter as you.

- b. Baby seals.
- c. This is that meal that's eaten before I wake up, I think?
- d. Eggs, bacon, and a slice of toast. (Whole wheat, optional.)

Who do you want to vote for in the next election?

- a. Toikeman.
- b. Stephen Harper.
- c. Wait- what election?
- d. Justin Trudeau.

Who do you think the Editor wants to vote for in the next election?

- a. Toikeman.
- b. Toikeman.
- c. I'm still confused by this whole "election" thing.
- d. Toikeman.

Who's your favourite Super-hero?

- a. Toikeman.
- b. Rorschach.
- c. Idk, Superman, I guess?

- d. Captain Canuck.

You're sitting down by a train track (for some reason) and you see a group of people working on the track with a train coming at them. You can pull the lever and save the group of workers, but you will kill that politician you picked back in question 3, or you can leave the lever as it is and doom the workers. What do you do?

- a. Doesn't matter. Toikeman will save them! Probably... If he doesn't, it's not my problem.
- b. Leave the lever alone! Harper is more important than those construction workers. Why are they working there anyway? Clearly they're up to no good. Probably terrorists.
- c. You lack the fucks to give to pull the lever.
- d. Pull the lever. Those workers are just doing their job.
- e. WRONG LEVER!

Find out how your views align on page 10!

VOLUME CV — ISSUE II — OCTOBER 2015

B740 Sandford Fleming
10 King's College Road
Toronto, ON M5S 3G4

tel: (416) 978-2917
fax: (416) 978-1245
<http://toike.skule.ca>
e-mail: toike@skule.ca

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF Ryan Williams
SENIOR STAFF WRITER Allan Song
CONTRIBUTING WRITERS Peter Cargill
Stephen Gidge
Kelly Hunter
Will Merrick
Simo Pajovic
Colin Parker
Diana Pesce
Attila Vanderploe
Aaron Weber
Eric Zaporzan

GRAPHICS COORDINATOR Cyrus Lau
GRAPHICS CONTRIBUTORS Yan Li
Brandon Lista
Leigh MacNiel-Taboika
Jessa Sausen
Kayla Steadman
John Sweeney
Aaron Weber
Eric Zaporzan

EDITING COORDINATOR Namya Syal
DISTRIBUTION MANAGER Stephen Gidge
WEB EDITOR Ozan Coşkun
CONTENT REVIEW Kelly Hunter
Simo Pajovic
Diana Pesce
LAYOUT Evan Boyce
Jennifer Dixon
COMICS Josh Davis
Ryan Williams
PRINTER Weller Publishing Inc.
AD PLACEMENT FREE Media
SPECIAL THANKS TO Matthew Kerner
Jonathan Swyers

COLOPHON

Once every month, the Toike Oike staff travels back in time to the year 2573 BCE, at around 3pm on September 9th, where they intercept the Egyptian priestess Hephse' Ra Tep as she is about to perform a ritual opening of a portal to the spectral ether. By convincing her to do the rites while mildly intoxicated, and subsequently harassing some goat-headed ethereals, the staff obtains the new issue of the Toike from within the portal. On the way to meet the priestess, of course, they must eliminate temporal paradoxes by killing their former selves coming to get last month's issue. This means that if you're reading a copy more than a month old, you should proceed with caution since you are literally holding a dropped stitch in the fabric of space-time.

WHAT HO?

The Toike Oike is a formal decision-making process by which a population chooses an individual to hold public office. Toike Oikes have been the usual mechanism by which modern representative democracy has operated since the 17th century. Toike Oikes may fill offices in the legislature, sometimes in the executive and judiciary, and for regional and local government.

DISCLAIMER

The electoral, super democratic opinions expressed in this newspaper reflect those of the Engineering Society and the University of Toronto. In fact, they even reflect the opinions of the writers and the engineering community in general. NOT! If you happen to find any of the material within these pages offensive, do not try to sue us, as we have a crack team of racially diverse lawyers ready to bring tha pain and give out mix tapes. Sucka MC's ain't shit.

Justin Trudeau's Tips for Essential Beauty

Look Like a Leader this Election Season

Above: Federal sex god displays talent of simultaneously delivering the punch and the smolder.

Juan Kerr
Toike Oike Beautician

As Election Day approaches, Justin Trudeau finds himself busier than ever. Endless campaign events, advisor meetings, and smokin' dank kush can make it hard to find time for appearances and physical health. But Justin stays as fabulous as ever by using his three recognized style fundamentals.

Justin's hair has become a celebrated icon of Canadian culture - and rightfully so. Justin spends countless hours a day perfecting his voluminous and glamorous locks. Only the most expensive hair care products, made from tiger eyes and the thrill of the fight, are used to carefully construct his beautifully coiffed masterpiece, and thus rise up to the challenge of his rivals.

In addition to his hair, perfecting his "I'm a good looking young guy who occasionally enjoys a fat doobie, but is still capable of running a country and getting down to business with serious issues" smile is on the top of Justin's style agenda. He spends hours each morning carefully practicing poses in front of his mirror to ensure maximum effect.

In addition to a selfie game that's totally on fleek, Justin's physical health is another important aspect of his style. The tabloids are littered with pictures of Justin showcasing his hot bod. But how does the federal sex god have time to exercise with such a busy schedule? Justin, modest as ever, attributes his stellar physique to boxing (he's a huge fan of Booty Boot Camp!). His trainer helps out by putting on a Stephen Harper mask and yelling encouragements. Things like "You're not ready, Justin!" are the most motivating, says the foxy boxer.

You may think that you, too, aren't ready. But by following these three guidelines, maybe one day you might find yourself the prime minister of Canada. And rockin' that hot bod too!

UTSU's Secret Letter to the PM

Steven Seagull
Toike Oike Whistleblower

A recently approved Freedom of Information request by the Toike Oike has revealed the contents of a letter Stephen Harper received several months ago from past UTSU executives. As firm believers in transparency and accountability in the democratic process, we have published the letter's contents.

"Dear Mr. Prime Minister,

We represent the 2014-2015 executive council of the University of Toronto Students' Union. As experts in media wrangling, policy obfuscating, and political arm twisting, we feel obligated to offer your government some pointers on damage control for what is, quite frankly, a trivial spending scandal within your Senate and cabinet.

The first mistake you guys made was setting up any expectation of accountability and good money management. If you write overspending and waste into the budget, you'll have a lot more wiggle room for corruption. For example, we budgeted $172 000 for member services staff during the 2013-2014 year. Yes, we paid that much to members who sell entertainment tickets and create advertising for the UTSU. That's more than the stipends officially given to the execs for the year. Hope you're taking notes, Mr. Harper...

Of course, most of this money was actually used to pay for important staff functions, not that it was sufficient. We had to make do with a lukewarm gruyere and black truffle (ugh) fondue fountain with gilded bread cubes at our last exec meeting. That's way worse than ice cold camembert with broken crackers. And our Dom Perignon wasn't even chilled properly, so it went flat within the hour.

Let's not forget how bad you guys are at covering up scandals. Your attempts at misdirection in the Mike Duffy trial were laughable. You should have just paid him for disgusting amounts of overtime that he couldn't possibly have done (we did that, and we're totally going to get away with it), and stonewalled by citing personal privacy concerns, since information regarding funds collected from the public for public services is obviously protected by personal privacy protections. Other good tactics include trying to bribe your electorate with trivial fee cuts, free hot chocolate, or straight-up hand-outs to constituents, but at least you already figured that one out.

Well, the private jet just landed on our island, so that's all the time we have for you. Good luck with all your future lucrative enterprises.

Toodles~~~
Cam Wathey 'n Crew"

It'll all end in Biers...

Serving up a good time
Every time since 9T6!

5.99 Lunch Weekdays

MONDAYS
Cheap liker
Red Hot Poker Tour
(6pm registration)

Toonie TUESDAY
shots & apps

Open Mike / Pub Quiz
WEDNESDAY
Good tunes, great prices.
Hilarious host and free stuff @9pm

Giant Bier Sale
THURSDAY
(Stein Special)

B.U.R.P! FRIDAY
(DJ from your table)

Live Music SATURDAY
The best acts from our open mike take the stage @ 9pm

Free Pool &
Comedy SUNDAY
Toronto's funniest people take the stage @8pm!

All Day Breakfast
Weekends

229 COLLEGE STREET
416/59-STEIN
Facebook: einsteinpub
Twitter: einbierhalle

Dear Miss Ogeny

Dating Advice that’s Totally Up to Date!

Dear Miss Ogeny,
I never had a girlfriend in high school, and now that I’m starting first year, I think I’m ready for a serious, committed relationship. Problem is, I’ve never really spoken to a girl before. Any tips? I’m desperate!!!
- Chad Winthrop III

Well Chad, you’ve come to the right place for advice, as I am a certified expert in talking to girls. The key to getting girls is to ensure you treat them as inanimate objects. Girls are far more attracted to you if you talk down to them, like they’re lesser human beings. Drive the point home by referring to her as “it” in conversation. That’ll drive it wild!
Girls always take compliments as backhanded insults, and the inverse is true too. Be sure to spice up your game by adding some insults into your conversations. My favourites to use are “get back to the kitchen” and “shut the fuck up, slut”. When in doubt, a little “bitch” never hurt anyone! Remember, girls always like a bad boy, so there’s no such thing as being too insulting. If all else fails, you can try looking cool and aloof by simply ignoring them. It’s a sure-fire way to win her undying devotion!
Best of luck,
Miss Ogeny

Dear Miss Ogeny,
I’m 21 years old, and guys just don’t find me attractive. What should I do?
- Desperately Single

Obviously, the problem lies with your appearance. Guys love the hairless look, so the less hair you have, the better. Shave everything. You can draw those eyebrows back on later. Check out trends that guys hate, and make sure you avoid all of them. I’m sure you’ll be able to find an outfit or two that conform to men’s standards. You should also consider changing your personality. Remember, a guy doesn’t want to be with a girl who’s better than him at anything, so you should try to be as incompetent as possible at absolutely everything. Tying shoes? Nope, sorry, don’t know how. Spelling your name? No chance in hell.
On a related note, be sure not to have your own opinion about anything. Guys prefer it when women agree with everything they say. Best to just keep quiet. Go get dat dick,
Miss Ogeny

Harper Source Code Found
Written in LISP

Jonah Rhea
Toike Oike Technology Specialist

One of the worst kept secrets in Canadian politics has been officially outed - Prime Minister Stephen Harper is, in fact, a robot. Earlier today, hacktivist group Anonymous released the “Harper Code”, written in the obsolete programming language LISP. Toike Oike reporter Dixie Normous interviewed an Anonymous representative, who wished only to be referred to as “Deepthroat”, regarding the code. Their conversation follows*:

Normous: How did you come to find the Harper Code?
Deepthroat: Well, we were just casually hacking the CPC servers when we stumbled across a folder called ‘Not my Pron!’ Naturally, we had to open it.
N: Were you expecting the recently leaked Layton, Mulcair fanfic[1]?
D: Yeah, but we didn’t find it.

Harper greets one of his own.

We were really looking forward to it, too ;) [sic] We did find the file ‘$F35.lisp’, though. The main challenge we had was in finding a machine that could actually compile this defunct language. We had to pick up a Commodore 64 from Craigslist to run it.
N: Was it the Harper Code? What did you see?
D: It was! It didn’t compile, which probably explains most of his policies... The code was only 42 lines long and contained like, 69 syntax errors. At least. There also seemed to be quite a bit of memory leakage, too. My favourite part was this

On a related note, Pierre Trudeau’s C source code was also released this week. It simply contained an infinite loop of printf(“Fuddle duddle! \n”).
*Interview has been edited for content
[1] “Fifty Shades of Orange,” The Toike Oike, October, 2015.

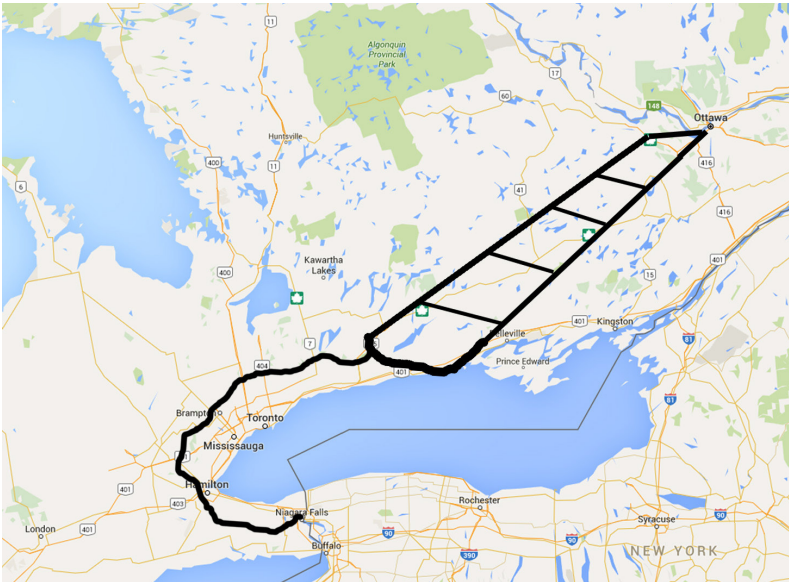

Trudeau to Blaze Highway 420 to Ottawa

Etwas Forwan
Toike Oike Trailblazer

Liberal leader Justin Trudeau has recently added to his controversial platform a proposition to extend Canada’s Highway 420 from the Niagara region to the nation’s capital. It will be a joint venture between the Liberals and the Green Party. The plan was brought forward in parliament, and was subsequently opposed by Conservatives across Canada, who called it a “pipe dream.”
The current Highway 420 connects the QEW with downtown Niagara Falls. The existing speed limit is 80 km/h, and Trudeau assured reporters that the speed would remain “chill.”
The Toike Oike was granted an exclusive interview with Justin in his hazy office. When asked about the purpose of the project, he stated that he wants to expedite the transportation of crops and “agricultural products” from Canada’s hot and humid Niagara Peninsula to the major centres of Ottawa and Toronto. Ontario’s greenhouse industry has been rapidly growing over the past few years, and Trudeau wants to support this growth using the 420.

Trudeau noted that taxpayers will take a hit first, but their thoughts on the matter should relax with time. The Liberal leader’s plan is for every Canadian to have access to the 420.
The Highway 420 extension is to be progressive in nature. It will include an all-natural grass awkward function we found just before we were caught, called ‘(defun justNotReady)’ - we could barely make sense of it. It spewed out fearmongering non-sense about Justin Trudeau and marijuana policy reform, winter coats, and child care or something. Best of all, if any query took more than two seconds of computational time, the entire program would hang up and crash. We loved that part; we’d just keep asking about funding the CBC, and it crashed 100% of the time.

N: Any big plans for the Harper Code? Maybe release a hot patch?
D: Sorry, Dixie, but I have to get back to our current project to hack Deep Blue. The Harper Code might run better on that. I’d love to say more but I’ve been given a gag order...
N: Deepthroat? Are you there? Deepthroat... gargly static

Trudeau’s plan features increased frequency of 7-11 stops.

News Briefs

Kijiji Hostage Negotiations Draw to a Close
Victim’s Parents Confused, but Relieved

After three long weeks of perplexing negotiations, the parents of Kimberly were overjoyed when their daughter was returned home, safe and sound. Kimberly had already been missing for four days when a family friend alerted her parents to an ad on the online bulletin board, Kijiji. “Young woman for ransom. Blonde, 24. $10,000 in unmarked 20 dollar bills, or best offer.” The face in the ad’s picture left no doubt. Kimberly had been kidnapped.
Initial SMS contact with the kidnappers confirmed that Kimberly was “in mint condition” and “like new.” The deal was eventually haggled down to $4,400 and a used bicycle. However, the two suspects were quickly apprehended when one of them offered their home address as a location for the trade.

Mulcair’s Beard Turns Out to Be Small, Furry Rodent

NDP leader Thomas Mulcair has found himself in quite a hairy situation after his beard was revealed to be a small, furry rodent. Mulcair’s “beard” reportedly perked its head up in the middle of a press conference and scurried away through an opening in the crowd, squeaking, “FREE AT LAST! FREE AT LAST!” Audience members were terrified as the furball zipped away with Mulcair, baby-faced and orange with embarrassment, in hot pursuit, shouting “Come back Ferris! Daddy loves you!”
Mulcair’s approval ratings sharply dropped following the debacle, especially among hipsters, who only supported Mulcair because of his non-mainstream, lumberjack-like beard. However, Ferris has piqued the interest of the zoology community, which claims he is an undiscovered and possibly endangered species. Eyewitnesses suggest Ferris was last seen at a rendezvous with billionaire U.S. presidential candidate and all-around asshole Donald Trump’s hair.

A BIG THANK YOU

We have now been a part of the community for an incredible year and would like to thank the Engineering Community for much of our early success!!

For those of you who do not yet know us, we are the home cooked choice around campus. You can find us at 177 College Street next door to the Second Cup.

You can keep yourself informed of our ever changing and always home-cooked daily specials on facebook at facebook.com/collegestq or on Twitter @collegestqchef

Elizabeth May Proposes Counter-Pipeline to Funnel Oil Back into Albertan Sand

Olly Swell
Toike Oike Energy Correspondent

The Green Party came out swinging at the Montreal Leaders' Debate as Elizabeth May clashed with the other Prime Minister hopefuls. The underdog candidate, attending the event via Skype, outlined a bold new strategy for improving Canada's controversial presence in the oil industry. Instead of arguing to taper off oil production, May proposed that Canada start funneling oil directly back into the Albertan sands.

"Alberta's going to be the next California if we don't do something about it," said May on the topic of natural resources. "If we want to preserve the area we need to band together, recognize our responsibility to the environment, and inject millions of barrels of oil into the ground."

May followed up with a ten-minute PowerPoint about her design for the technology, which she claimed would continue to employ miners, refiners, and emergency responders in the area.

"I'm not suggesting that we stop siphoning resources from the area. In fact, with Harper's ailing economy we should be ramping up production! I'm just arguing that we divert the flow back where future generations can exploit it. It's this kind of compromise that our parliament is afraid of."

This is not the first time that renewal strategies have been proposed for the bituminous sands. Industry leaders have been experimenting with different strategies to collect environmental tax cuts for years. From 2005 to 2006 alone, billions of bones were collected from post-consumer chicken wings and buried in old surface mines.

"We took a lot of cues from the logging industry," said a representative from Syncrude Canada. "I mean, burying millions of hot 'n' spicy wings might not be as effective as planting trees to replace natural resources, but chickens are genetically close enough to dinosaurs that it should work out."

Industry leaders and voters alike are reacting positively to May's plan, and the party leader has since suggested similar solutions for industries across Canada. After the election, we might be looking forward to crab fishers dumping artificial crab meat into the ocean and wind generators finally doing their name justice.

e) $k(x) = \int_1^2 y^x dy$

what is that squiggle supposed to MEAN?

2) Find the integral of each of the following: [1 mark each]

- a) $f(x) = 2x$
 b) $g(x) = z^3$
 c) $h(x) = \tan(\pi^2 x)$
 d) $j(x) = (\ln x)^2$
 e) $k(x) = \int_1^2 y^x dy$

2) You are in Lash Miller chemical laboratories and working with an isolated system. Determine what type of reaction occurs when mixing 5g fluxweed (solid), 12mL knotgrass (aqueous), and 5mL lacewing (liquid). The specific heat capacity for each substance is: 45 J/g °C, 507 J/s, and 1 J/g °F, respectively. [4 marks]

Dank kush fam

A chemical reaction
 (I think I deserve full marks on this one)

2) You are in Lash Miller chemical laboratories and working with an isolated system. Determine what type of reaction occurs when mixing 5g fluxweed (solid), 12mL knotgrass (aqueous), and 5mL lacewing (liquid). The specific heat capacity for each substance is: 45 J/g °C, 507 J/s, and 1 J/g °F, respectively. [4 marks]

locc grass and weed. That is all.

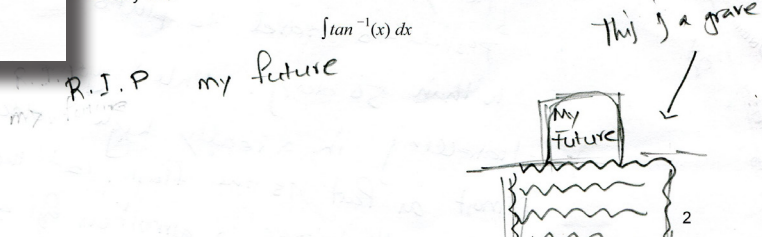

2) Find the integral of each of the following: [1 mark each]

- a) $f(x) = 2x$
 b) $g(x) = z^3 = g'(x) = 2^3 = 2 \times 3 = 6$ (w my woss)
 c) $h(x) = \tan(\pi^2 x)$
 d) $j(x) = (\ln x)^2$
 e) $k(x) = \int_1^2 y^x dy$

4) Solve the following indefinite integral. Show all of your work. [2 marks]
 Hint: This is an easy one!

$\int \tan^{-1}(x) dx$
 = fuckin' tanned dicks

the following indefinite integral. Show all of your work. [2 marks] is an easy one!

Toike Education

Pudding.
 Shut your mouse.
 Now watch me whip.
 You have been swifter.
 Nuff said.

Ethics [15 marks]

One of the most important aspects of being an engineer is knowing how to make ethical decisions. Answer the following question to best of your ability and support your answer with evidence.

You are the United Nations Defense Secretary. Satellites have recently discovered extraterrestrial life and, upon further examination, it appears to be hostile. These lifeforms are planning to colonize Planet Earth and are about to invade for control of our planet. However, a sizeable group of nations, approximately 100, are willing to sacrifice Canada as a homeland for the aliens on Earth, in order to avoid a global war. Would you go to war and risk the entire planet? Or instead do you give up Canada as tribute?

Note: I am not the UN Defense Secretary.

Yeah lol. Why not? I mean Canadians are so kind that they'll turn the hostile aliens into treehuggers. Not starting some war of the worlds shit. Increased maple syrup production.

The Toike Party of Canada standards of our country Many students going into very little background in to sential for building a compe

These sample responses from Entrance Aptitude Test show posed reforms are. On topics even in things those chumps many incoming engineering potential properly fostered.

Under a Toike government

Ethics [15 marks]

One of the most important aspects of being an engineer is knowing how to make ethical decisions. Answer the following question to best of your ability and support your answer with evidence.

You are the United Nations Defense Secretary. Satellites have recently discovered extraterrestrial life and, upon further examination, it appears to be hostile. These lifeforms are planning to colonize Planet Earth and are about to invade for control of our planet. However, a sizeable group of nations, approximately 100, are willing to sacrifice Canada as a homeland for the aliens on Earth, in order to avoid a global war. Would you go to war and risk the entire planet? Or instead do you give up Canada as tribute?

I would give up Canada as tribute and have everyone dress up like this:

our new flag

HA HA HA HA
 Pineapple Elephant Trunk.

2) Analyze the following poem in a few sentences:

We've known each other for so long
 Your heart's been aching, but
 You're too shy to say it
 Inside, we both know what's been going on
 We know the game and we're gonna play it

↓
 Did Taylor Swift sing this?

This page not intended for

W ha

in words or less, summarize the Industrial Revolution.

stuff happened

Physics [20 marks]

Show all of your work.

- 1) The MSE Cricket Team is warming up for their first game. Julio Sanchez bowls the ball to his teammate, Dave Muntbagher, who is standing 24m away, at 20km/h. Dave then bats it with an angular velocity of 35km/h, 46° clockwise. [10 marks]
- a. How far does the ball go and in what direction? State all assumptions you make.
b. With your findings,

↑
up my ASS

Logic/Argumentative [10 marks]

For the following questions, show all of your work and state any assumptions you make. An answer without an explanation will not receive any marks.

- 1) If we idealize Convocation Hall to be a sphere, approximately how many eggs can fill up the entire building? DO NOT assume the eggs are spheres. [5 marks]
- Do you seriously "eggspect" me to answer this question?

Je Swee and DJ Popcorn need to run some errands. Je Swee is going to buy the latest Eminem album, while DJ Popcorn needs to go pick up his new mixtape, since his last one caught fire. They are taking Je Swee's yellow Hummer from his house to DJ Popcorn's (4.68km), to the Eminem store (5.01km), to Mix'n Central (7.2km), back to DJ Popcorn's (10km), and finally back to Je Swee's (8.64km). The gas tank is 5.3L and gas consumption is at a rate of 6 kilometres per litre. Ignoring traffic delays, and assuming instantaneous turn time, how much gas do the friends require? [10 marks]

- 1) If we idealize Convocation Hall to be a sphere, approximately how many eggs can fill up the entire building? DO NOT assume the eggs are spheres. [5 marks]

To test this I would take the volume of an egg and calculate the volume of Con hall using $\frac{4}{3}\pi r^3$. The volume of the

I dk but I can fit 300 of my left nut.

Party n Reform

a promises to heighten the with respect to education.
university these days have pics that we believe are estitive workforce.

om this year's Engineering
w just how crucial our pros like history, ethics, art, and s are supposed to be good at, students have not had their nt, all of that will change.

- 5) Describe the most efficient technique for playing sports.

JUST DO IT

- 4) If the Toronto Transit Commission (TTC) guarantees wait times of less than 5 minutes at any subway station, and it takes a subway car 7.21 minutes to finish an eighth of one trip, propose transit solutions that will fulfill this guarantee assuming an entire trip is 30 stops one way and 24 stops the other way. Show all rough and final work, including minor thoughts and/or epiphanies. [5 marks]

I'd rather put needles in my eye than do this

- 5) Describe the most efficient technique for playing sports.

In loin cloths:

Petition

The University of Toronto's Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering Committee on Admissions and Curriculum Adjustment is committed to providing dedication to the utmost degree to the students of the University of Toronto. If you feel that your performance was hindered while writing this examination, for any reason, or that your performance on this examination does not adequately reflect the contents of your pre-university education, please use this space below to elaborate. These comments will be taken in consideration in the marking of this paper.

I am a virgin
Well, I was.

Until This Test Fucked Me Over.

Petition

The University of Toronto's Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering Committee on Admissions and Curriculum Adjustment is committed to providing dedication to the utmost degree to the students of the University of Toronto. If you feel that your performance was hindered while writing this examination, for any reason, or that your performance on this examination does not adequately reflect the contents of your pre-university education, please use this space below to elaborate. These comments will be taken in consideration in the marking of this paper.

I feel vickted.

- 4) Identify, the grammatical error in the sentence:
My friends went to the movie theatre without me.

The assumption that engineers have friends

We at the Toike Oike also feel that some credit is due for the student who answered
every single question
by drawing a dick.

onally left blank.

Our Platform

MORE JOBS

A million jobs isn't cool. You know what's cool? A billion jobs. For every Canadian. 35 million billion jobs. 35 quadrillion jobs. Jobs jobs jobs.

BETTER DRUG LAWS

The Liberals and NDP have stated that they'd move towards legalizing marijuana. Well, if we were in office, we would legalize CRYSTAL FUCKING WEED.

SAFER STREETS

Thousands of deadly, unlicensed hockey sticks are used in Canadian street hockey games every day. It's time to end the mayhem, and replace gun registration with hockey stick registration.

STRONGER CANADIAN DOLLAR

A healthy Canadian economy starts with a strong currency. We'll boost the dollar's value by replacing all coins and bills with Canadian Tire money.

AN INDEPENDENT CANADA

The Toike Party fully supports the secession of Canada from the rest of Quebec, and the formation of an independent Canadian state.

CAMPAIGN REFORM

Voter turnout has been far too low in recent years. To address this, we will introduce legislation requiring all election campaigning to consist of contradictory robo-calls to voters at 3am.

The Cabinet

- Minister of Debt
 - Appoint Alexis Tsipras
- Minister of Extra-Marital Affairs
 - Appoint Ashley Madison
- Minister of Transportation
- Minister of Cisportation
 - (Because we're inclusive.)
- Minister of Self-Defense
 - Appoint Ronda Rousey

- Minister of Exploitable Resources
- Minister of Half-Assed Apologies
- Minister of Sexual Energy
 - Appoint Sting
- Minister of Bacterial Culture
 - Appoint E. Coli
- Minister of Magic
- Minister of Agriculture
 - Appoint Cheech and Chong

- Minister of "What's an Environment?"
 - Appoint Shell Oil
- Minister of Labour
- Minister of C-Sections
- Minister of Ministers
 - Appoint Mario Baker
- feat. Jaden Smith as...
Minister of "How can ministers be real if our government isn't real?"

POINT/COUNTERPOINT

Kim Jong Un is Infallible vs ALL HAIL GLORIOUS LEADER

Kim Jong Un's new Luxury Ski resort is a shining beacon of hope to the rest of the free world (the rest of North Korea). It was his judgement that it should not only contain hot springs but a spa and a five star restaurant; all while enjoying the magnificent view of the world's most beautiful country. All this was possible because Kim Jong Un, the world's most handsome ruler, picked the location himself. The fact that it snows only a couple days a year is because of traitorous wind currents corrupted by western greed, driven into a jealous rage by the magnificence that is Kim Jong Un.

The most important date in existence is January 8th, the day when our shiny ray of divine guidance, was born. This year the whole world celebrated his 32nd, 33rd and 34th Birthday. The reason that Kim Jong Un, the lion of holiness, has three birthdays is because his majesty is so immense that it required three births, each a year apart, to bring him into the world.

Kim Jong Un is widely regarded as the most intelligent man on the planet and indeed the whole universe. After all, how else could he manage to rule the most complicated and spectacular country in the world? In university, he received a 42% in math and a 25% in science. This was because his grasp of the material was so fantastically awe-inspiring that it broke the foolish and ostentatious western mark calculators, causing them to turn over and start again from zero once Kim Jong Un surpassed 100%.

By carefully moderating his daily swiss cheese intake, Kim Jong Un is able to keep his weight at the necessary level to sustain life on earth. Since our glorious beacon of everlasting wisdom is the centre of the universe, should he lose weight the earth would spiral away from him due to the laws of gravity that he himself created. Indeed, North Korean scientists have agreed that Kim Jong Un is almost more important to life on earth than the sun itself.

Uh-oh.

The comrade who wrote the earlier portions of this glorious scripture of truth has been taken away for questioning.

COSTUME CLEARANCE

Arts and Science Halloween costumes now FREE at UTSU

ALL HAIL GLORIOUS LEADER!

ALL HAIL GLORIOUS LEADER!

ALL HAIL GLORIOUS LEADER!

ALL HAIL GLORIOUS LEADER!

ALL HAIL GLORIO-- did you say "almost"!?

Actual Notice of the EngSoc Annual General Meeting

All Members are invited and are entitled to VOTE!

October 6th
6:00 PM
FG 103

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
ENGINEERING SOCIETY

U of T Engineers Go to Kingston to Take Grease Poll

Mike Literus
Toike Oike Statistician

In the spirit of election season, statistics enthusiasts from U of T Engineering have taken a big, greasy poll from among the student body at Queen's University.

Over the weekend of September 12th and 13th, this group of engineering students went on a trip to Kingston to get their hands on some particularly big data. The poll has been handed over to Binary Fraction Calculations, a consulting firm where executives say they are now doing some heavy lifting in the analysis.

"Yep, the computer work can be pretty intense with polls as long as this one," said one analyst. "We're planning to run about 263 regressions."

It is unclear when the poll will be formally released.

Analysts from Binary Fraction Calculations say they are mounting a huge effort to analyse the data from the poll.

Fifty Shades of Orange

This raunchy fanfic was leaked to the Toike Oike online from the username "The_OG_JT". We have yet to confirm its origins.

"Mr. Mulcair will see you now."

Jack was nervous. His toes curled with anticipation as he waited for the door to open.

"Mr. Layton?" Tom stared at him with his cold, dead eyes. "Come in." His voice was warm and husky like the thick, Dark Amber Québécois maple syrup of Jack's childhood ... or something. "Talk about a sugar daddy," he thought hungrily.

"I've wanted this since you approached me about joining the NDP in 2007. And now you're finally mine." Mulcair whispered longingly. "This feels righter than Harper's political views!"

But Jack was still unsure. "But Tom, I'm... I'm married..." His cerulean orbs glistened with worried tears. Tom drew him close.

"It's okay; so am I," he whispered, and kissed him with a passion redder than the Liberal Party. "You're better than Paul Martin!" Jack gasped. The feel of Mulcair's furry rodent beard was almost too much to handle.

Jack whimpered as Tom pulled away. "Jack, before we continue, I have some rules you need to know about. Firstly, I don't make love. I fuck... hard. Secondly, there's a lot more paperwork to do, and thirdly, you don't yet know what you're in for. I'm going to fuck you harder than Nigel Wright fucks with senate expense reports."

Jack nearly moaned. "Oh, Tommy..."

"Please, Jack, call me Mr. Prime Minister."

"Are you sure?" Jack asked breathlessly.

"Like 6 million Canadians," Tom replied, "I'm ready."

"Oh, Tom. You're causing my party rankings to rise. Touch me... there." Both men ripped off their expensive suits. "Do you have room inside your borders for my refugees?" Tom asked seductively. "Say you're ready for Tom, mon petit chouchou."

And then they did the sex. It was the best Jack had ever had. "So..." Tom asked, lazily turning to Jack. "Voulez-vous coucher avec moi ce soir? I've got some taxpayers in my back pocket who can cover the costs, if you know what I mean ;)"

Above: "It was thiiiiis big, Mr. Harper."

UTSU Releases Grizzly Bear on Campus to Liven Up Midterm Season

Eric the Misread
Toike Oike Wildlife Specialist

Responding to a bevy of mauling complaints, a UTSU spokesperson has confirmed that a live grizzly bear was released somewhere in the vicinity of Front Campus earlier this week.

"Yeah, that was us," VP Fauna Cole L. Baird said in a prepared statement to the Toike. "Last month we all put our heads together to figure out how to improve student morale as everyone's schedules become more hectic and the days get shorter. Releasing a fully grown mama grizzly bear onto our vibrant campus was easily the best idea we came up with. We think she'll end up being a great addition to the community."

When pressed about safety concerns, he admitted that the move might be controversial. "We had to consider multiple angles when we released this confused, belligerent apex predator onto the streets of Toronto. Yes, if feeling threatened, she will likely attack the closest available student and rip them to shreds. Yes, in this unfamiliar environment, she will be feeling constantly threatened. Yes, grizzly bears can smell fear. And yes, they're capable of causing devastating injuries with ease. But that's not a problem. We swear."

The UTSU's newest initiative seen loping around St. George.

"Frankly, a lot of you people could really use some more exercise, especially during times of stress," commented Dr. Theodore Berenstein of the UHN. "And nothing gets your heart-rate up like being chased by a territorial Ursus Arctos. You should be thankful, you ingrates." And despite the public's unbearable concern, the release of the animal has been received with overwhelming praise from the remaining student body.

"I get that death now awaits me around every corner, and that I probably need to stop eating so much salmon," conceded second year EngSci Noel Lieph. "But at least the UTSU is finally making some noticeable changes around here. I was beginning to think that my student fees were being wasted."

Officials from University of Toronto Facilities and Services are particularly unhappy with the new initiative, citing the giant steaming piles of bear excrement that have begun appearing daily on King's College Circle.

Election Quiz Choices

From page 2

If you picked mostly A: You're definitely most suited for the Toike party! Congratulations, you think that Canada should secede from Quebec, and SUDS tickets are a much better form of currency than the actual dollar. Let's be real here, you're spending most of your money on them anyway and you trade them for favours of all kinds. All kinds.

If you picked mostly B: You're definitely most suited for the Toike party! Congratulations, you think that Canada should secede from Quebec, and SUDS tickets are a much better form of currency than the actual dollar. Let's be real here, you're spending most of your money on them anyway and you trade them for favours of all kinds. All kinds.

If you picked mostly C: You have no idea what election I'm talking about. And you probably don't really care either. Why bother vote? It's not like your vote will actually matter, and whoever everyone else votes for is probably the best candidate anyway. What do you know about who should be Prime Minister? You're (hopefully) not Political Science. Leave that stuff to the people who study it.

If you picked mostly D: You're definitely most suited for the Toike party! Congratulations, you think that Canada should secede from Quebec, and SUDS tickets are a much better form of currency than the actual dollar. Let's be real here, you're spending most of your money on them anyway and you trade them for favours of all kinds. All kinds.

Want to join the Toike? Read this Black Box!

Are you fairly hilarious? We want you!
Can you photoshop like a boss? Join our graphics team!
Do you want to try your hand at humour writing? Become one of our staff writers!
Do you have the mad English skills required to pick out our typos and grammar follies? Do content editing for us!

Head over to www.toike.skule.ca/join and get on the mailing list!

You'll automatically be notified of upcoming meeting dates, times, and locations.

Alternatively, if you're interested in something specific, like graphics, editing, or distribution, email toike@skule.ca and let us know!

Get involved with your friendly neighbourhood Toike Oike! Anyone can join.
It doesn't matter what year, faculty, discipline, or college you're a part of; if you can read this then you're good enough for us.

Carl decided to adopt the "Work hard, party hard" ethic. The Viagra helped.

English and hiccups were all it took to demolish the rule of Commander Tiessee Ernds

TOIKEOSCOPIES

ARIES

You will meet 12 magical jaguars who will show you none of their magic. They'll just eat you.

TAURUS

Don't listen to anything your conscience tells you this month. It'll probably be total bull.

GEMINI

The TA proctoring your exams is eventually going to notice that your identical twin is writing your midterms. Start asking for that extra credit.

CANCER

Hey, at least tomorrow night's seafood dinner won't taste like food poisoning.

LEO

All will be revealed this month, as that no-pants-to-class nightmare finally comes true.

VIRGO

The supermarket produce section, despite what you might think, is not a good place to deal with all that sexual frustration.

LIBRA

Be bold, and make what decision seems right this month, despite what all your friends, your family, and your shrink might say.

SCORPIO

As Mars moves into your quadrant, it will bring with it a strong influence, and his name is JOOOHHNNN CEEENNNNAAAAA!!!

SAGITTARIUS

To err is human. To err a whole bunch of times and not appear to get any better is pretty much just you.

CAPRICORN

If you plan on Trick-or-Treating, beware of children dressed as muggers. They might not be children.

AQUARIUS

So it turns out even Mars holds more water than your explanation for why you couldn't finish that assignment.

PISCES

Aw, who cares, this horoscope would be about as accurate as a pre-election poll, anyway.

